

CROWNED AMID SIMPLICITY

King Haakon of Norway In Historic Event

LITTLE PAGEANTRY SEEN

City of Trondheim Was Prettily Decorated, but There Were No Attempts at Extravagance in It.

Trondheim, Norway, June 22.—King Haakon VII was formally crowned King of Norway today in the Trondheim cathedral. The ceremony was one of the great historic interest, as Haakon is the first ruler Norway has had to itself for nearly six hundred years. No attempt was made to imitate the picturesque coronation ceremony of the old Viking kings. Everything was carried out with the utmost simplicity, in this respect resembling more closely the inauguration of the American president than a royal pageant.

The city was prettily decorated, but the most striking part of the decoration scheme was that carried out by the warships in the harbor. There were eleven men-of-war in the fiord with total crews of 4,000 men. The vessels were all bedecked with flags and sailors manned the ships when the coronation took place.

About two thousand soldiers kept order in the town, lining the streets leading to the cathedral. The procession to the church was very simple and not at all impressive; there were simply the King and Queen, court officials, and a small escort in the show. All the envoys went to the cathedral separately.

BRYAN AT CORONATION. Says He's Not Responsible for Statements Made About Himself.

Trondheim, Norway, June 22.—William J. Bryan, who is here to attend the coronation of King Haakon, was interviewed yesterday. Taking for his text the statement that he was being described as conservative, Mr. Bryan said: "I am not responsible for the phrases used in regard to me, but I am responsible for my position on public questions. That position ought to be well known. Take the trust question, for instance, as it seems to be uppermost just now. My position is that private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. That was the Democratic platform in 1900 and the plank was incorporated in 1904, and it is the only tenable position."

"There is some talk of controlling the trusts—you might as well talk of controlling burglary. We do not say that it shall only steal a little bit, or in some cases a good deal, but it shall not steal at all. It is so of private monopolies. It is not sufficient to control or regulate them—they must be absolutely and totally destroyed. Corporations should be controlled and regulated, but private monopolies must be exterminated, root and branch. Now you may call that a radical doctrine, yet it is more conservative to apply this remedy now than to wait until predatory wealth has, by its lawlessness, brought odium on legitimate accumulations."

SUICIDE PACT CAUSES OF THREE DEATHS

Bodies of Victims Were Found Yesterday—Two Letters Were Left, Telling of Love for Each Other.

New York, June 22.—A suicide pact between Mrs. Mary Behrens, a widow, and Edward Ganser, who had a wife and five children, resulted yesterday in the death of both the man and the woman and their 12-year-old son. The three were found dead in the woman's apartments in DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn, with every gas burner turned on.

Mrs. Ganser had recently asked Mrs. Behrens to give Ganser up threatening at the same time to procure warrants for the arrest of both.

Wells and Mrs. Henry A. Dunbar of High street. The ceremony, which was at eight o'clock, was performed in the parlor, which was decorated with evergreen and snowflakes, the bride couple standing beneath an arch from which was suspended a large white wedding bell. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Lois Harvey sang, "O Promise Me," and promptly at the hour the bridal party entered the parlor to the inspiring strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Norman N. Atwood.

The Rev. W. Parkyn Jackson, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiated. The maid of honor was Miss Laura A. Dunbar and the best man was Dr. C. E. Hunt of Montpelier. The ushers were John Cattanch of Montpelier and Frank C. Schofield. A reception followed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her aunt, Mrs. H. A. Dunbar, wore white lawn dress trimmed with lace, and a white veil, and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor wore white mouseline with shadow embroidery of pink and carried pink roses.

From the dining room, effectively trimmed with white pennies and evergreen, delicious refreshments were served, those assisting being Miss Bessie L. Martin, Miss Helen Hopkins, Miss Florence M. Merritt, Miss Lois Harvey and Miss Louise Morrison. There was a handsome display of wedding gifts.

Among those from abroad who attended the ceremony were Mrs. Hunt, Clifford Hunt, Edwin McGoff and Mrs. and Mrs. Cattanch of Montpelier, Mrs. Irene Page and Miss Laurie Page of Plainfield, Dr. and Mrs. McGoff left for Montreal, and after a few weeks' trip will take up their residence in Montpelier.

EXPULSION ORDERED

Representative Gethro of the Massachusetts House.

BY VOTE OF 142 TO 54

Accused Man Asks His Fellow-legislators for Fair Play—Dramatic Scene Enacted Last Evening.

Boston, June 22.—During a session marked at one time by unusual disorder, the Massachusetts house of representatives voted to expel Representative Frank J. Gethro of Boston, thus upholding the report of the committee on rules, which after a long investigation of bribery charges, recommended Gethro's expulsion on the ground that he had sought improperly to influence legislation. The vote was 142 in favor of expulsion and 54 against. An amendment offered by Representative Mollen of Worcester to fix the penalty at thirty days' suspension instead of expulsion, had previously been lost on a voice vote.

The consideration of the bribery report, which lasted from 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 6:15 o'clock last night, when the house adjourned, was marked by the delivery of impassioned speeches by many members, both in support and in remonstrance against the report of the investigating committee.

The disorderly part of the proceedings developed when Representative Martin Lomeney of Boston, who figured as the persistent supporter of Gethro during the entire session, criticized Representative Leonard for his conflicting statements in connection with the Gethro affair.

He charged that the Springfield member had been contradictory and strongly urged that he was just as much entitled to blame as Representative Leonard, who had been the persistent supporter of Gethro during the entire session.

A motion to adjourn, offered by Representative Luce of Somerville shortly after 6 o'clock was shouted down by the Gethro and Swig supporters amid considerable confusion and to the accompaniment of several cries of "Sing rule."

Subsequently, however, after the Taunton member had been defended in impassioned language by Mr. Lomeney, the house voted to postpone further consideration of the charge of Representative Swig until today.

The house galleries were crowded with people and the entire proceedings were followed with extraordinary attention. Something of a sensation was created in the chamber when Representative William L. Newton of South Boston, in concluding an earnest appeal for clemency, beseeched his fellow members not to expose the legislature to criticism and ended with the words, "Don't make a secessionist out of me."

After further debate, Representative Gethro was given the floor. He read a brief statement in which he expressed a demand for justice from his fellow members.

"If any man has agreed to be bribed by me," he went on, "he knows it and I know it, and I ask him to rise here and now and denounce me."

An air of expectancy passed through the chamber as the representative, who had been speaking in high, shrill tones, stopped to await a reply. None came, however. Gethro resumed:

"Be level, fellow members; be square, and give me just this. If I am innocent I demand acquittal at your hands."

VERMONT AND MASSACHUSETTS. Will Be Connected by Trolley at Once.

North Adams, Mass., June 22.—H. E. Durkee, a civil engineer in the employ of the Consolidated company, arrived in this city yesterday and gave out the most welcome news that the Consolidated had at New Haven let the contract for the building of the trolley extension connecting this city with Bennington, Vt. He is here to begin the preliminary work of the building and says that the contract calls for the completion of the road by December 1.

The line will run from Bennington, touching the Housack Falls line, and connect with the Housack Valley tracks to this city at the Vermont line, west of Williamstown. It will pass a territory in which there is an estimated population of 150,000, which are likely to look to this city as the center of their trade.

The building of the road will be one of the biggest problems in electric road building undertaken in this section, as it is a main aim to develop the highest speed possible. The road will run over private rights of way most of the distance, and the nature of the line, as surveyed, is such as to necessitate deep cutting and extensive filling. In the opinion of experts the road will be the most costly that has ever been undertaken in these parts.

The estimated time between this city and Bennington, a distance of 20 miles, is one hour on the road.

SUES AUTO OWNER. H. R. Thomas of Burlington Claims Damages of $2,000.

Burlington, June 22.—Suit was yesterday brought by H. R. Thomas vs. W. G. Reynolds for the recovery of damages of $2,000 for injuries alleged to have been received on April 20 of this year. He alleges that through the fault of the chauffeur in charge of the automobile delivery wagon owned by the defendant, the horse became frightened and ran away. Mr. Thomas claims that he was thrown from the carriage and injured so that he was under the physician's care for a period of two months. He also claims that his wagon was badly damaged.

The papers in the case were served yesterday by Sheriff Horton, and the case will come up for trial at the September term of Chittenden county court.

East Barre, June 22.—About 9:15 p. m., Wednesday the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Leon Blake, taking away her mother, Mrs. Ella Woodworth. Forty-two years ago she was born in West Bolton and remained there until about three years ago, when she came to live in East Barre. During this time she has lived a part of the time with one daughter, Mrs. Fred Tomlinson, and with the other, at whose home she died. She has been ill these three years and death came as a happy release from suffering which, though at times severe, was borne with much patience. She leaves three daughters and one son, and a husband to mourn her loss. She will be taken to West Bolton, her old home, to be buried there Friday at one o'clock in the afternoon.

HORSE HAD TO BE SHOT BECAUSE OF INJURIES

A. A. Sargent and Arthur Horton, While Driving to Graniteville, Met an Automobile on a Curve.

A. A. Sargent of this city and Arthur Horton, while driving toward Graniteville yesterday afternoon met with a serious accident. They were about half way up the hill, the road being very narrow at the spot, when J. M. Boutwell and George Milne came round a sharp turn in their automobile. The horse was very much frightened and jumped clear around the carriage turning bottom side up, imprisoning the men underneath. The horse tore madly down the hill. Horton soon got out from under the carriage, but Sargent held on to the reins as long as he was able but was finally forced to let go.

The horse continued on to the main road where the reins were up in the carriage wheels and forced it to stop. The carriage was completely smashed up and the horse was so badly cut up that it was thought best to shoot it, which was done. The men both escaped without any serious injuries, other than a few bruises and a thorough shaking-up. Except for feeling a little sore and stiff, Mr. Sargent says that he is feeling all right today, but does not care to repeat the experience.

STANKARD IS COMING. May Be Here Tomorrow and by Wednesday at Latest.

The base ball management will communicate with "Tom" Stankard at Springfield, Mass., tonight and endeavor to get him here in time for tomorrow's game. It is announced that if he is not here tomorrow he will come Wednesday at the latest. Stankard's prowess with the bat will come in handy in winning games, and the followers of the game who have been uncertain whether he would come will feel easier. Since his triumphant opening with Springfield Stankard has been playing a star game.

BASE BALL NOTES. Tomorrow afternoon we will start off in earnest with the race.

A black streak is all you can see when Daniels is making the bases. The bleachers were filled full yesterday but the grand stand looked rather lonesome.

Uncle did his old work with the bat, getting a single and a double in three times up and making two of the tallies. There was a smile of satisfaction on the face of the fans yesterday when the word went around that "Edgar," last year's popular catcher, had arrived.

Hard working Eaton leaned over the bleachers fence yesterday and pulled in a foul that set him up all the more in the favor of the crowd that enjoys good playing.

Altogether the prospects are very encouraging that "Manager" Urie has gotten an aggregation that will put up a winning fight this summer in defense of the green flag.

Judging from the fact that the Beverly team did up Dalay's Ottawa bunch three straight, the Intercity representatives ought not to be entirely wiped out of the earth when they meet the Canadians next week.

EAST MONTEPIER. A son was born June 21 to Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Wheeler of Brattleboro, it being a grandson of Luther G. Wheeler of this place.

ELECTIONS AT THE CLOSE

Episcopal Diocese Convention Ended Last Night

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL

The Next Convention Will Be Held in Burlington—Delegates Returned to Their Homes Today.

The 156th annual convention of the Episcopal church in Vermont, which was held in this city, was brought to a close last night, the delegates returning to their homes this morning. The session yesterday afternoon was partially taken up with the election of officers.

The officers elected were: Standing committee, Rev. M. F. Weeks of Shelburne, Rev. S. H. Watkins of St. Albans, Rev. C. Y. Bliss of Burlington, Hon. E. J. Ormsbee of Brandon and Charles E. Parker of Vergennes.

Missionary committee, Rev. W. T. Forsythe, Rev. D. L. Sanford, Rev. Philip Schuyler, C. E. Parker, S. W. Hinds and John N. Woodin.

The following officers were unanimously re-elected: Auditor of trust funds, F. S. Platt; registrar, Rev. G. R. Johnson; treasurer, John N. Woodin. It was decided to accept the invitation of St. Paul's church of Burlington to hold the next convention in that place, beginning on the third Tuesday of June.

The Vermont branch of the women's auxiliary board of missions held their semi-annual meeting in the vestry of the church yesterday afternoon. They were addressed by Miss Gertrude Stewart, formerly of Rutland, who has been taking a course of training for a deaconess and who in September will go as a missionary to China.

As there were no canons to be amended at the convention, the business was completed yesterday. After evening prayer at 7 o'clock the convention recessed, business which was devoted to missionary work. On the invitation of Bishop Hall, the Rev. H. R. Hulme of New York addressed the convention on the subject, "The Men's Missionary Thank Offering." This missionary offering is to be presented at the meeting of the general convention at Richmond, Va. The speaker said that committees were being organized in all the different dioceses of the country, to bring before the laymen of each parish the objects of the men's thank offering. First, he suggested that several laymen go to the different men of each parish and have a face to face talk with them and ask each one to give what they are able to give, and in this way each man will feel that he is asked to contribute especially to this object. He suggested that money might be contributed for special objects—$500 will build a rectory; $1,000 will build a parish house in the West; $10,000 will build a church. The address was listened to with the closest attention.

Following the address the matter was discussed informally and reports were received from missionary work in the diocese. Then the minutes were read, and the convention took final adjournment.

The delegates returned to their homes last night and today, declaring that they had been very hospitably entertained in Barre. The convention in all respects was very successful, and the Rev. C. E. Freeman, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, wishes to thank the citizens for the courtesies extended.
